Denmark says supports EU carbon market fix plan

Denmark supports an EU Commission proposal to prop up carbon prices on the condition that wider structural reforms are made to Europe's troubled Emissions Trading Scheme (ETS), the country's climate and energy ministry said Friday.

German auction of 4 mln EU emissions permits cancelled

The European Energy Exchange (EEX) was forced to cancel an auction of 4.02 million spot European Union emissions permits on behalf of Germany on Friday because it would have cleared below the reserve price, EEX said.

Parliament vote on backloading will be tight: Green MEP

A European parliamentary vote on whether to give the EU Commission the right to intervene in the carbon market is too tight to predict, according to a green MEP that backs the measure.
